The Instrumentation & Control Week 2010, organized by AADECA (Argentine Instrumentation and Automatic Control Association), will be held from August 31 to September 3 in Buenos Aires, Argentina at Centro Costa Salguero.

Among the instruments we will show this year, you will find the Hach Flow Marsh-McBirney innovative and award winning open channel portable (short-term) and permanent (long-term) flowmeters for the municipal and industrial markets.

We invite you to visit our booth 304-305 (Pavilion III).
